

THE GREYHOUND

PUBLISHED BI-WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. VI

MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1932

No. 2

MR. DAVID GOLDSTEIN PROMINENT LECTURER VISITS EVERGREEN

DELIVERS OPEN AIR TALK

Speaker Answers Students' Queries Concerning His Conversion

During his recent trip to Baltimore Mr. David Goldstein, prominent Catholic lecturer, made a visit to Evergreen, making one of his characteristic open air talks on the College campus.

Receives Sanction

A convert from Judaism, Mr. Goldstein has been traveling over the entire nation explaining Catholic dogma under the auspices of the Catholic Evidence Guild of Boston. As a former Socialist the speaker said that he realized the influence of open air speaking and taking his idea to Cardinal O'Connell secured his permission to enter this field.

Describes Trip

Describing his trip through the states the speaker declared that he received a courteous hearing almost everywhere and the number of questions asked showed that his audiences were deeply interested in religion.

After he had completed his talk Mr. Goldstein answered questions from the student body. In reply to a query the lecturer said that in dealing with Jewish converts 90 per cent of them had to have their faith in the Old Testament revived. "Today," asserted Mr. Goldstein, "Judaism generally stands for Rationalism rather than belief in God."

Plans Laid For Soph Frolique Ray Cunningham Made Chairman

Date Set For November 25
Novel Program In Store
Decorators Active

Mr. Ray Cunningham, President of the Sophomore class announced, on October 18th, that a committee had been chosen for the 1932 edition of the Sophomore Frolique and plans were definitely under way to make it the season's classic.

Committee Chosen

The men and their respective duties are as follows; Mr. Ray Cunningham, chairman; Messrs. Frank Wright and Bernard O'Hare, decorations; Messrs. Thomas Melin and Jack Cochrane, music; Messrs. Don Douglas and

MR. DAVID GOLDSTEIN

History Academy Treats Of Nationalist Trend

Lecturers To Discuss
Nationalist Leaders
Of Major Powers

Nationalism, we are told, is the devotion to national interests, but the John Gilmary Shea History Academy has found that it can be devoted to other interests. Accordingly, this inventive body has adopted it as a theme of their forthcoming lectures which will treat of "The Pivotal Figures of Nationalism."

These modern historical talks are to survey the nationalistic spirit in European and American countries and study in detail the man behind the movement in each country. The colorful Napoleon, the fiery and determined Hitler, and our own Roosevelt have their places among prominent characters to be discussed.

The discourses extend throughout the year from October until May and will be delivered bi-weekly. "The Idea

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

ALUMNI PHILOMATH DISCUSSES POPE'S ENCYCLICALS ON LABOR

LOYOLA GRADUATES SPEAK

Three members of the Alumni Philomath, or Catholic Action Club, presented a symposium of two Labor Encyclicals of Pope Leo XIII and Pius XI at the Knights of Columbus Home, on Tuesday October 18.

The members who represented the Society were: Mr. Albert Sehlstedt, '19; Mr. Clarence J. Caulfield, '22 and Mr. George Renehan, '18.

Father Russel, Chaplain of the Catholic Evidence Guild, opened the meeting with a prayer and Mr. T. Barton Harrington, '21, acting chairman of the meeting, gave a

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

FR. COTTER CONDUCTS SUCCESSFUL RETREAT

MEMBER OF MISSION BAND

Retreat Is Followed
By Communion Mass
And Breakfast

The three days' Retreat which was given here last week by the Reverend John A. Cotter, S.J., was a great success.

The Retreat opened with Mass at 9.05, celebrated by Father Risacher; after which Father Cotter gave instruction in the library.

In his lectures, Father Cotter impressed the fact that now is the time to re-adjust our lives. A student must prepare himself now for the duties and tasks of later life; that is the primary reason for education. He stated that we are all gamblers in this world, but that it doesn't pay.

Father Cotter is a member of the Jesuit Mission Band, and travels throughout the country giving Missions and Retreats.

The Communion Mass was held on Friday, October 28, and was followed immediately by a Communion Breakfast.

Nationalism To Be Dealt With Prominent Professors To Talk

Lectures To Start Nov. 18
Dr. Hayes To Be Here
Public Invited

The lectures which will be delivered this year prior to January 1, will deal with the subject of Nationalism. The different phases of this important question will be the subject of discourses by three prominent figures of the day.

Lectures Listed

On November 18, Dr. Carlton J. H. Hayes, Professor of History at Columbia University in New York City, will discuss "Nationalism, its relation to Internationalism."

"International Nationalism" will be the subject of a talk by Fr. Gerald G. Walsh, S.J., on December 2. Fr. Walsh is Professor of History at Woodstock College.

Dr. Sam F. Telfair, Professor of History at Fordham University, New York, will lecture on "The Surge of Nationalism" on December 13.

These lectures which will be open not only to the students but to the public will prove well worth attending because of the interest in history and its associated political aspects.

REV. JOHN A. COTTER, S.J.

Seniors To Publish Year Book; Permitted To Work On Annual

Mr. J. C. Power Chosen Editor
Work Of Publication
Not Yet Begun

Contrary to expectations, the class of '33, will produce a Year Book. Although the publication was in doubt, due to the present business conditions, permission has been obtained to begin work on the Annual.

As yet, nothing has been done on the actual construction of the book. At present, the problem of selecting a printer is the paramount issue. Several local firms have expressed a desire to submit bids, together with the usual out of town concerns. The ultimate choice will be made known in an early issue.

Mr. Power, Editor

Mr. J. C. Power, present Editor of the Greyhound has been selected to guide the Year Book Staff. However, his newspaper duties will not permit him to devote his full

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

VOLUME BY FATHER OF FORMER PROFESSOR NOW IN LIBRARY

NEW BOOKS ON SHELVES

Those of the student body who are interested in new publications should be pleased to hear that a number were procured this summer, and that they may be found on the Library shelves. Upper classmen should derive a two-fold pleasure from one book especially. It is Pierre Marique's "History of Christian Education." Mr. Marique is the father of the Rev. Jos. M. F. Marique, S.J., who was one on the faculty here at Loyola College last year.

The books listed are: The Fountain by Charles Morgan; Night Flight by St. Exupery;

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

CHEMISTS CLUB ELECTS EDELEMAN UNANIMOUSLY AT ITS FIRST MEETING

OTCENASEK VICE-PRESIDENT

Many Noted Chemists
Numbered Among
Lecturers

At the first meeting of the Loyola Chemists' Club, held for the purpose of election of officers, Mr. Edgar S. Edelmann was unanimously elected President. Mr. Francis J. Otcenasek, '33 received the office of Vice-President over two other contestants, Mr. John Bossert, '34 and Mr. Dennis R. McAleer, '33.

From the list of six names offered for secretary Mr. Rollins C. Hanlon was elected. The librarians are Mr. John Coon, '33, Mr. J. Leo Risacher, '34, Mr. Louis H. Thoman '36. Class representatives chosen were Joseph J. Stann, '34, Mr. Paul R. Donahue, '33, Mr. Frank J. Roh, '35, and Mr. Irving J. McCarthy, '36.

Although the program for the year is only partially completed, it has been learned that a number of famous lectures will appear. Among these are Dr. W. Mansfield Clark, of the John Hopkins Medical School, who will speak on "Oxidation and Reduction", and Dr. Joseph B. Niederl of New York University. Dr. Niederl was formerly a faculty member of the University of Graz, Austria. Dr. Charles S. Piggot of the Geophysical Laboratory, will speak on "Recent Investigation of Radioactive Isotopes." The subject, "Production of Synthetic Crystals at High Tempera-

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

Juniors Hold Election; Waidner Voted President

Jackson Vice-President;
Hanlon Receives
Dual Post

In the recent Junior class elections, Mr. George I. Waidner was selected as President by a decisive majority, while Mr. Charles E. Jackson received the title of Vice-President. Mr. C. Rollins Hanlon received the dual position of Secretary and Treasurer.

Though the time of the Junior Promenade is yet far in the distance, plans were undertaken for the great event. The President instituted preliminary measures at the second meeting of the class, when he called for volunteers for the various committees. As there were no volunteers, the class voted

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

THE GREYHOUND

LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. VI

Baltimore, Maryland

No. 1

Editor-in-Chief

J. Carroll Power, '33

Managing Editor

John P. Bauernschub, '33

Sports Editor

James M. Shea, '35

Circulation Manager

Paul R. Donohue, '33

*Associate Editors*Julian Hanlon, '33
Gerald Galvin, '34Raymond A. Kirby, '33
Charles E. Dolan, '34*DEPARTMENTS*Francis J. Otcenasek, '33
Roger E. Lewis, '35David A. Donovan, '33
George I. Waider, '34

Joseph W. Feeney, '35

*News Staff*C. Rollins Hanlon, '34
Greg Kane, '35J. Leo Risacher, '34
R. Cunningham, '35*Sports Staff*

Arthur Millholland, '34

William Kammer, '35

Circulation Assistant

Thomas M. Houff, '33

Published Bi-Weekly

Subscription $2.00

From Here
and There

That Education for leisure is becoming more and more necessary was stressed by Dr. L. P. Jacks of Oxford University in a speech on "Leisure and the Modern World," at the University of Toronto recently.

* * *

Dates to football games are forbidden University of Colorado freshmen. Offenders are "dunked" in a local lake without trial.

* * *

Jackie Coogan, former juvenile movie star, is now a freshman at Santa Clara University. He is "working" his way through U. S. C. as a cheer leader.

* * *

Columbia University's football players found employment last summer as "Nurse Maids" to the young sons of wealthy New York families due to the tragic Lindbergh affair.

* * *

The Pennsylvania State Highway patrol confiscated twenty-five cars owned by students of Lehigh University, and classed them as "relics unfit to operate on the public streets."

* * *

Sixteen students were expelled from Missouri U. on a charge of kidnapping. Later the administration had to reinstate them.

* * *

A "scandal" was recently unearthed at Columbia to the effect that a certain member of the Columbia band was a student of New York University.

* * *

John Law's Sing Sing football team recently defeated "John Law's" cops; 7 to 0.

* * *

Because upperclassmen of Lincoln Memorial University hazed a young professor by mistake, Dean H. A. Miles issued an order abolishing the Freshmen rules which had been in existence for more than 35 years.

* * *

Mars Hill College, North Carolina, paid tribute the other day to a negro through whose servitude its first building was financed.

A granite boulder was unveiled by representatives of the college and the United Daughters of the Confederacy above the grave of a slave known as Joe. He was offered as collateral for a contractor's bill of $1200 when the school was established in Western North Carolina in 1856.

* * *

Two students were recently expelled from the University of Maryland for refusing to take the R. O. T. C. course.

Evergreen Reflections

F. J. O.

America has a new national pastime—going to the movies. So critical has the situation become that Shakespeare's immortal classification of the ages of man must be discarded—in favor of a new classification typical of this age of movies.

The movie-going period of life begins with the cowboy complex. This is the time when boys glory in the antics of their favorite "bronco-busters" as they gallop after the bandits who are heading toward the border with the gold and the golden-haired heroine. Some people retain this cowboy complex throughout life. They may be seen gripping their seats and biting their nails in the neighborhood theatres on Saturday afternoons.

The next age is reached by those who have grown tired of sage-brush, decrepit mountain shacks, and desert dance-hall brawls. They have by this time developed the "villain complex." If the victims of this are young, we can see them stealthily making their way home from movies—through alleys, along shadowed walls, with many an anxious glance backward in the direction of the inevitable cops. The same complex is often evidenced in supposed adults. We have all seen them return home after a show, and answer the ringing phone with a very deep, a very gruff "hello," just as the villain did.

And now comes the age of the "sentiment complex." Victims of this go to the movies to see and hear some white-collared Adonis whisper sweet nothings into a sophisticate's ear. They then apply their acquired glibness in a rumble seat under the bewitching moon of Montebello. (This is, of course, from a purely theoretical and objective viewpoint.) Others of this class are the sedate and sympathetic matrons who go to see the struggling orphan trying to wend her weary way against the wickedness and snares of the world—just to "have a good cry."

And now we come to those with the "intelligence complex." Under this heading we may class those who go to see Arliss and the Barrymores, because they are actors; who like to see travelogues depicting life among the Zulus, because it is educational and inspiring; who insist upon seeing pictures with foreign titles which they cannot pronounce, because "it is done, don't you know."

Faust's Last Hour

D. A. D.

The moon looms like a burnished vessel in the sky;
By her glory all stars are paled to nothingness.
On such a night dark-eyed Helen, whose sweet fingers
Hushed the mightiest lips of Troy,
Fled from the realms of death inviolate
To shower her love upon me.
Returned from thence at Lucifer's behest
The pale siren of the azure Nile amorous;
Her white throat I kissed, the blood
Of my new youth tumbling through my veins
As a summer freshet down a mountainside . . .
But my soul has sickened of these orchids,
These lotus-flowers of hell, and lips exquisite
Are become dead flesh to my satiety . . .

God, O my God, how the thundering of the bell
Assails my ears; each second is a thread,
Each minute, a strand, to the rope
That drags me hellward!

What is an hour? A time to waste in idleness,
A period to endure at a task until we are released
To pleasanter things, An hour 'til we sup
An hour 'til we dance, An hour and lovers meet.
Speed hour! Flee seconds! Fly minutes!
How they idle! Then at last we sup,
Or dance, or greet our beloved . . .
But now, this hour separates
Christ's pure sunlight and the rotting depths of hell;
As I speak the earth may yawn before me
And plunge me into the insane emptiness of space,
Where no friend, no God can follow,
But only despair and mad imaginings to send
My senses, screaming as a slave beneath the bloody lash.
—But I shall call on Christ; He'll hear my soul in anguish.
It's not too late; the Good Thief—
Ah, he did not knowingly barter his soul,
Nor seal the horrid bond with his blood.
Judas, for thee and Faust there is no hope.
O thou terrible God, I cannot bear Your presence!
Hell yawns, welcome! I leap into it!

Student Council

Within a few days each class will be called upon to elect one or more members to the Student Council. Thus it is fitting at this time to urge the student body to be careful in electing Council representatives. Members of this body should not be chosen because of mere popularity, but rather for their intelligence, their energy, dignity and school spirit.

A new charter has been developed for the Student Council by a committee from Senior Class and submitted to Dean O' Malley. After several points at issue have been settled this charter will become the legal constitution of the Council.

An active Student Council has long been a need at Loyola. Such an organization serves not only as a medium between the student body and the faculty—a means by which the students can make their needs and wishes known to the College authorities—but it is also invaluable as a central agency in guiding and promoting every Loyola activity.

As there is a real need for a Student Council; since it will be not merely a pleasant sounding name but rather an active and vital reality, let us make the most of our privilege and employ this body to sensibly co-operate with building a finer Loyola.

Above all let us keep in mind that, for us, a Student Council does not mean "students against the faculty" but rather "students with the faculty."

Charges of Immorality

Not long ago a charge of immoral conduct was made against the students of the University of the Philippines. The attack turned out to be decidedly unfair and malicious, for when proof of the assertion was demanded none could be given; the bitter and damaging criticism had been based on the flimsiest of reasons. The whole affair thereupon brought forth an editorial in the University paper which decried the slanderer and his methods and boasted of the general high character of its young men and young women students. It frankly admitted that there might have been in the past a few scattered instances of human frailty and indiscretion, but that these were "the rare exceptions which can never justify a wholesale charge of immorality against the University."

Departing then from this "charge of immorality" which occasioned the editorial, it continued for the remainder of its length to consider the need and means for building up and strengthening moral behavior. This part is what interests us.

The first thing suggested was that "the University be strict in imposing the penalty on delinquent youth." The writer of the editorial goes on to say, "our conduct should be governed by a well defined understanding of right and wrong," and that "reason should hold sovereign sway." He seems to know also that Religion and Ethics form a necessary part of an educational program, for he says, "we believe that there is a fatal defect in our education, since we have a complete absence of moral training and religious knowledge."

In our Catholic schools we have this training from the Catechism of the primer grades to the Ethics of our Senior year. For us who are Catholic students it is hard to realize what it is to be without such a stabilizing and strengthening influence in our life.

Sophs Elect Cunningham After Successful Frosh Year

Mr. Ray Cunningham was elected President of the Sophomore class at a meeting held on October 5th. This makes the second consecutive year that Mr. Cunningham has served in this capacity. He was chosen in the fall of 1931 to lead the class of 1935 through Freshman and his reelection was due largely to a successful past performance.

Farrel Advances

Mr. Thomas Farrel, who may be remembered as Treasurer of the class last year, received the office of Vice-President. The next ballot revealed that Mr. Frank Wright had received an overwhelming majority to administer the duties of Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Wright is well qualified for this office, having held various similar ones while at Loyola High.

It was decided at this meeting to allow the President, who is chairman ex-officio, to name the committeemen for the Sophomore Frolique and to place the handling of all details in his hands. The question of proper enforcement of freshman rules also came up and several difficulties were eliminated.

Lectures On Nationalism; Talks Extend Throughout Year

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)

and Rise of Nationalism," the preliminary lecture was given by the moderator, Edward A. Doehler M. A. on October 24.

The figures to be treated in each country are Bismarck, Hindenburg and Hitler in Germany, Napoleon and Clemenceau in France, while Mussolini is to be the man treated in Italy. Lloyd George of England, and Theodore Roosevelt of the United States, together with other national characters will be the subjects of other lectures.

Juniors Hold Election; Waidner Voted President

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)
that the committees should be formed by appointment.

The President then suggested that the number of committees be cut to four instead of the usual eight or nine. Each committee would thus have a double function, supervising such kindred activities as "Favors and Programs." The President will be chairman of the executive committee, composed of chairmen of the other committees. These chairmen are: Mr. Jackson, Patrons; Mr. Mueller, Printing and Advertising; Mr. Hanlon, Music and Decorations, and Mr. Dolan, Favors and Programs.

Alumni Lecture On Labor Encyclical Of Leo XIII

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)
brief outline of the speeches which were to follow and introduced the speakers.

Discuss Working Conditions
Mr. Sehlstedt, the first speaker, told of the miserable working conditions of the working classes in England in the sixteenth century and of the causes and abuses that brought on the industrial revolution in that country in 1770.

Mr. Caulfield spoke of the rights and duties of the Church in regard to the laboring classes, and of the duty of employers to pay their employees a living wage. "In a condition such as prevails in the world at the present time," he said, "the Church has a right to raise her voice, for a natural right of man has been violated."

Duties of State

Mr. Renahan, the final speaker, expounded the rights and duties of the State toward the laboring classes. He explained the encyclicals of Pope Pius in some detail, stating the recommendation that the Pontiff has made concerning present economic conditions and the double danger to be avoided—individualism and socialism. "The State has a right," said Mr. Renahan, "to guarantee and protect the correct use of property. Straight thinking is the answer to our problem," he concluded.

At the termination of the speeches, questions were asked of the last speaker by quite a few of the audience.

The original Philomath was started at Loyola about fourteen years ago. Plans for its re-organization as a Catholic Action Club, were conceived at the Alumni Retreat, held at Manresa-on-the-severn, in November, 1931, under the direction of Father Charles G. Herzog, S.J., Professor of Fundamental Theology at Woodstock College. Father Herzog later became Moderator of the Society.

Meetings are held every second Tuesday at the homes of the members where various points of Catholic doctrine and teaching are explained and discussed.

*What is Cross Blending?
an Artist
might explain it this way...*

"Let's say you're painting clouds. You've got your primary colors here on the palette. But you haven't the clouds until you blend certain colors into the special tone you want.

"This is very much what happens in making a good cigarette. And I gather that what Chesterfield means by Cross-Blending is what an artist does with colors. Their Domestic and Turkish tobaccos — many varieties of each — are the primary colors.

They blend and cross-blend these tobaccos until they get the special tone they want—in other words, the Chesterfield flavor.

"And just as each color you use acts on the others to change and enrich them, so each Chesterfield tobacco partakes of the fine qualities of every other.

"You 'weld' different kinds to get a better kind. That's Cross-Blending!"

Chesterfield

Cross Blended—that's why they're Milder that's why they TASTE BETTER

Alumni Chatter

R. E. L.

We are still looking eagerly and anxiously in the old mail bag for a line or two from "our alumni." But all in vain it seems. Oh well, better luck next time!

However, here are a few jottings about the more recent graduates.

Future Doctors

Philip Smith, '31, and Maurice Mackey, '31, have responded to the lure of ether and scalpel. Phil and Maurice are now enrolled in the Georgetown Medical School. Phil was editor of both the Greyhound and the Green and Gray while at Loyola.

J. Minton Dougherty, '31, is not far away from the above mentioned pair. Minton is doing graduate work in history at Georgetown.

Two Swift Workers

Martin Knott, '30, and William Q. Simms, '30, are both in the employ of Swift & Company. Bill is stationed at Norfolk, Va., while Mart is sticking close to his old home town—Baltimore.

Professors

Robert Lee Slingluff, '29, and A. P. Feeney, '30, are fellow teachers at the McDonough School, while Harry Green, '31, is following the same path at Loyola High School. Mr. Slingluff is a captain in the National Guard in his spare moments, while Ac Feeney spends his evenings at the University of Maryland Law School.

Hungry?

Raymond Rogers, '30, is helping appease the nation's hunger. Ray is part owner of a restaurant on Park Avenue.

Manager

Richard McClellan, '30, is having an interesting time these days listening to the complaints of the customers. Dick is manager of the Madison Apartments.

More Lawyers

D. McGlaughlin, '30, and John Kelly, '30, are now studying law at the University of Maryland while Dominic Fleming, '30, is following the well-trodden path at the Georgetown Law School.

Clarence Rogers, '29, will soon hang out his shingle. He is now a senior at the Maryland Dental College.

Shingle Out

Francis T. Peach, '26, is now practicing law in Towson with offices in the Offutt Building.

Steven V. L. Rango, '34, is now a salesman with the Gas and Electric Company.

Crusade Honors

Bishop McNarama, '97, pontificated at Military Benediction and conferred the Paladin honors on thirty-eight candidates at the Catholic Mission Crusade Rally at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, Sunday, October 20. He also conferred the Grand Cross, the highest honor in the Crusade, on four religious.

MR. JAMES J. WALSH ELECTED PRESIDENT OF COLLEGE ALUMNI T. B. HARRINGTON VICE-PRES.

THREE DIRECTORS CHOSEN

Father Wiesel Discusses Foundation of Alumni Endowment Fund

Mr. James J. Walsh, '12, was elected President of the College Alumni Association for the new term of office, at a meeting held in the Library Building on Thursday, October 13. Mr. Walsh is a lawyer with the firm of Hinkley, Hiskley and Burger.

Mr. T. Barton Harrington, '21, was elected first Vice-President. Mr. Ciotti, Second Vice-President.

The following were elected directors for a term of three years: Mr. William Sehlhorst, '17; Mr. Hugh Meade, '29; and Mr. Harry Greene, '31.

The secretaries and treasurer will be appointed at the first meeting of the Executive Committee.

After the elections, Father Wiesel addressed the meeting, speaking of the number of students in the College and its financial situation. Father Wiesel suggested an appropriation from the Alumni Association for the foundation of an endowment fund.

Messrs. John Farrell, '17, and James Farrell, '12, were appointed to investigate and report on this matter.

—o—

Mr. Charles B. Gorman, ex '89 Succumbs To Sudden Illness

Mr. Charles B. Gorman, Loyola Alumnus, ex '89, was stricken suddenly with a combined stroke and heart attack and died on Wednesday, October 12.

Mr. Gorman was for many years proprietor of a leather goods establishment on North Howard Street. Besides his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Dorsey Gorman, he is survived by four children: one son, Charles, who is studying for the priesthood at the Catholic University; and three daughters, Margaret, Mary and Ruth.

He was buried from the Cathedral on Saturday, October 15. Monsignor Edward Mackessy, '14, was the celebrant of the Requiem Mass. Among the priests in the sanctuary were, Monsignor Harry Quinn, ex '14, and the Rev. Edwin L. Leonard, '10. Mr. George Renehan, '18, one of the pall-bearers, represented the Alumni Association.

Interment took place in the Cathedral Cemetery.

Editor Looks at Europe," being some of the impressions gathered during his trip to the Eucharistic Congress this summer.

MANY MEMBERS OF LOYOLA ALUMNI ACTIVELY ENGAGED IN CATHOLIC ACTION AND EVIDENCE GUILDS IN CITY

The series of speeches on the Credentials of the Catholic Church, recently concluded by David Goldstein in Baltimore, brings to the fore an activity which is no novelty in this city, particularly to members of the Loyola Alumni.

For some time now, Catholic Action and Evidence Guilds have been active here in preparing speakers for just the type of work in which Mr. Goldstein has been so successful—namely, the public explanation of Catholic doctrine and practice by laymen.

Although the Alumni have their own private Catholic Action Club, or Philomath, reorganized last year under the direction of Father Herzog, S.J., many members are also actively engaged in other Catholic Action societies.

About two-thirds of the members of the Catholic Evidence Guild are Loyola

Alumni. Among them are: Messrs. Robert Bouchelle, '30, Clarence J. Caulfield, '22, Harry J. Casey, '21; George E. Renehan, '18; and J. Preston McNeal, '98.

The Guild has a broadcast program every Monday over station WCBM. On one of these programs, Mr. Casey broadcasted an address entitled, "Has God Spoken to Man?"

The Action Guild of the Knights of Columbus likewise lists a goodly number of Alumni among its members, some of whom are: Messrs. John R. Spellissy, '27, Vice-President of the Guild; G. E. Renehan, '18; and Vincent deP. Fitzpatrick, '07.

The Action Guild was organized last spring and holds monthly meetings at the K. of C. Home. At one of these Mr. Fitzpatrick spoke on "The Faith in Europe." The next meeting will be held on Friday, November 18.

"I like to watch you smoking your pipe!"

"IF EVER I SAW a picture of content, it's you when you're puffing on a pipeful of Granger. And I admit I like the fragrant aroma myself."

It is surprising how much better a pipe tastes when it is filled with tobacco that's made especially for pipes. And the Granger package is just right, too.

© 1932, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

The tobacco that's right — and the package that's right

GRANGER IS AMERICA'S

PIPE TOBACCO

FOUR LOYOLA UNDERGRADS ENTER RELIGIOUS ORDERS

SOPHS. ENTER SEMINARY

When the erstwhile Freshmen and Sophomores returned from the summer vacation, each group found that two of its members had answered the call to a higher life and were continuing their studies either in the seminary or the novitiate.

The former Loyola students are, Robert L. Arthur and Joseph P. Bradley, Sophomores; Francis X. Knott and John A. Simms, Jr., Freshmen. Oddly enough the two former Sophomores are studying for the secular priesthood, while the former Freshmen have entered the Jesuit Novitiate.

Messrs. Arthur and Bradley are taking their first year of philosophy at St. Mary's Seminary. Mr. Knott entered the Jesuit novitiate at Guelph, Ontario, in the Canadian Province, while Mr. Simms is a novice at Grand Coteau, near New Orleans in the Southern Province.

MR. VINCENT de P. FITZPATRICK SPEAKS ON "DUBLIN CONGRESS"

ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A. CLUB

Mr. Vincent de Paul Fitzpatrick, '07, Managing Editor of the Baltimore Catholic Review, spoke on "The Dublin Eucharistic Congress" before 145 members of the "Tuesday Night Club" of the Young Men's Christian Association, at the Y. M. C. A. Building on Tuesday, October 18.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was invited to address the Club by the Rev. George F. Harvey, director of spiritual activities at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Harvey and Mr. Fitzpatrick have been friends for a number of years.

In his address he told of the praise the Congress had received from Protestants and of their prayers for its success.

A talk on the Dublin Congress was also given to the members of the Study Club of St. John The Evangelist parish by Mr. Fitzpatrick on Monday, October 24.

Mr. Fitzpatrick is also writing a series of articles in the Review entitled, "A Catholic

Greyhounds Succumb To Terror Attack

Shepherd of Western Maryland breaking away for a 27 yard gain. This play preceded the first touchdown of Western Maryland. Six Loyola tacklers are in various stages of trying to corral Shepherd who was finally hauled down on his 42 yard line.

TERRORS DEFEAT
GREYHOUNDS 28-6
IN STADIUM GAME

LONG RUNS FEATURE GAME

Loyola Drives Fail
Cullen Scores
In Fourth

Loyola's Greyhounds made their annual attack on the Green Terrors' football dominance in the Stadium on Saturday. It was a gallant effort against a superior foe.

On receiving the opening kick-off, Loyola made a sustained march of 65 yards down the field, employing straight football in their sortie. When the Terror line braced on their own 20 yard line, Loyola lost the ball on a pass grounded in the end zone. Western Maryland failed to gain and punted to Carlin. On the first play Loyola fumbled and Diksa recovered. The Terrors fumbled on the 20 yard line, and Tom Farrell recovered for Loyola. A fifteen yard penalty backed the Greyhounds to their goal-line. Carlin made a remarkable punt of 85 yards, the ball carrying 65 yards in the air and over Dunn's head.

Second Quarter

When the second quarter was but a few minutes gone, one of Carlin's punts was held back by the wind and grounded on the Loyola 25 yard line. Mergo made a first down, and Shepherd went 12 yards through the line to score. He also added the extra point with a placement.

After several exchanges of kicks, Western Maryland got the ball on the Greyhound 25 yard line. Shepherd made 24 yards, and Dunn plunged over for the touchdown.

Third Period

Midway in the third quarter, Shepherd and Mergo carried the ball to the Loyola 5 yard line, and Shepherd bucked over in two attempts. Shepherd kicked the point. A few minutes later the Terrors slashed their way to the Loyola goal-line, with Mergo and Shepherd doing most of the gaining.

Fourth Period

Egan started the fourth period with a brilliant 40 yard run and crossed the goal-line, but the officials ruled that he stepped out of bounds on the 20. Cullen and Egan worked the ball to the 10 yard line, and Cullen then broke through center for the lone Loyola score. A line plunge for the point was stopped.

With Our Adversaries

While the Greyhounds were losing the first game of their season to Boston College, Washington College was held scoreless by Johns Hopkins, 21 to 0. Just the week previous Maryland had taken a lot of fight out of Washington by pushing over 63 points on the Eastern Shoremen.

Western Maryland has enjoyed an almost perfect season starting with a close hard fought victory over St. Thomas, followed by a 13-13 tie with Marshall, and carrying on with two more victories over Mt. St. Mary and Georgetown. The latter game brings to light for the first time this season the real power of Dick Harlow's charges, for Georgetown was credited with one of its best teams in years.

Villanova proved its power, losing only by the extra point kick to South Carolina, and then followed this defeat with a resounding victory of 31-0 over Gettysburg. Seton Hall was next handed a 46-0 drubbing which left no room for doubt of the Villanovans prominence at this game of football.

THE EMERSON HOTEL
PRIVATE ROOMS
AND
BANQUET HALLS
for all occasions with
Sunday Dancing

HUTZLER'S THIRD FLOOR

IS READY TO SERVE COLLEGE MEN!

—Correctly and Economically, Too!

HUTZLER BROTHERS ©

PHONE: UNIVERSITY 3500

GEO. J. STORCK & SON

LUMBER

Sash, Doors, Blinds, Flooring, Finishing, etc.
2406-18 GREENMOUNT AVENUE

VILLANOVA OUTCLASSES SMALLER LOYOLA TEAM

LINERS USE TWO TEAMS

Loyola Line Buckles Under
Cats' Ground Attack
In Second Half

Villanova showed too much power for the Greyhounds in their game at Philadelphia, and trounced the Loyola team 31 to 7. After the first half, the contest was all the Main Liners' way. For a time it looked as though the Baltimore team would give their hosts plenty of trouble, but weight and plentiful reserves turned the tide against the visitors.

At the start of the game Loyola took the ball from Villanova on downs, and quickly put over a score on the surprised Wildcats. During the first half it looked to be anybody's game, but in the last two periods the Loyola line wilted and Villanova's big fast backs tore through it at will. The Greyhounds were so clearly outclassed that the only doubt about the game was how high the final score would be. The Loyola team gave all that was in them, but simply couldn't stop the Wildcats' vicious attack.

First Quarter

Morisi kicked off to Weisenbaugh who returned to his thirty yard line. Loyola held for downs, and after Egan

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

O'Neill's

J. GODDARD MATTINGLY, President Plaza 5024-5025

The Mattingly Lumber Company

WHOLESALE—RETAIL

LUMBER—SHINGLES—LATH—FLOORING

Prompt Delivery

PIER 6, PRATT STREET BALTIMORE, MD.

Correct

Clothes for

Collegiates

HOCHSCHILD, KOHN & CO.

HART SCHAFFNER &
MARX SUITS

Exclusive at the Hub in Baltimore

The Hub

"...OF CHARLES STREET"

VILLANOVA BEATS 'HOUNDS IN HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

EGAN BLOCKS PLACEMENTS

(Continued from Page 5, Col. 5) had brought the ball to scoring position, Carlin tossed a thirty yard pass to Walt Dunne who galloped fifteen yards to the goal-line unmolested. Morisi booted the ball squarely between the up-rights, and Loyola had gotten off to an early seven point lead.

Toward the end of the quarter Villanova started a long touchdown march, aided by frequent off-side penalties. Weisenbaugh broke loose, and with some pretty interference by the referee, ran twenty yards to cross the goal standing up.

Villanova Takes Lead

After Carlin had backed the Wildcats almost to their goal-line with some nice punting, Whitey Randour rounded Loyola's left end and sprinted 84 yards for a touchdown. Perfect blocking made the run possible, for not a hand was laid on the speedy back in his dash. Maurice Egan broke through the line and blocked the placement try for point.

Third Quarter

Loyola re-entered the game lacking their customary second-half spirit. Before the period was many minutes old, Cook scored from the fifteen yard line on a cutback through right guard. This big, shifty back was the star of the game, rounding the ends and breaking through the line for long gains all afternoon. Egan again blocked the try for point, and the score stood at 18-7 for Villanova.

Loyola was kept on the defensive by the Main Line running attack, and Cook soon scored his second touchdown of the game. After coming through the left side of the line, he ran a broken field for fifty yards and crossed the Loyola goal. Cavanaugh made good the only Villanova extra point on a placement kick.

MANY NOTED CHEMISTS ARE NUMBERED AMONG LECTURERS

TWO LECTURED LAST YEAR

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) tures," will be treated by Dr. Herbert Insley of the National Bureau of Standards.

Dr. Piggot and Dr. Insley will be remembered by members of the Chemists' Club for their splendid lectures of last year.

Catawba College has an annual called the "Swastika." Colonel Stoopnagel and Budd claim Georgetown as their Alma Mater. Ozzie Nelson was an All-American football star at Rutgers.

Plans Laid For Soph Frolique Ray Cunningham Made Chairman

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4)

Greg Kane, printing and advertising. These men have lost no time in preparing for what they predict will be the greatest Soph Frolique in the history of Loyola.

Harvest Theme

So far "Harvest Time" has occupied the thoughts of the decorators as a theme. If this is ultimately decided upon, the Sophs may take on the appearance of a group of proud rustics around Thanksgiving Day.

The music problem seems to be puzzling the committee more than usual. But this difficulty will be ironed out in short order and whatever orchestra is elected, they feel sure it will meet with the approval of everyone.

Surprise in Store

The big surprise of the evening of November 25, for that is the date, will possibly be accounted for by a neat and novel program. But those details will be kept secret until everyone is dancing 'neath a brilliant harvest moon.

Fifty-four miles of adhesive tape were used for bandaging and binding football players at the University of California last year, and seventeen pounds of cotton were needed for these subjects of "Ole King Football."

Seniors To Publish Year Book; Permitted To Work On Annual

Mr. J. C. Power Chosen Editor Work Of Publication Not Yet Begun

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4) time to the Annual, until the first of the year, when the Senior members depart from the Greyhound.

The members of the class fully realize that the problem of raising money will be a difficult one. However by means of card parties and various other functions, it is hoped that the required sum will be obtained. The rummage sale, held recently, set the campaign off to a flying start.

VOLUME BY FATHER OF FORMER PROFESSOR NOW IN LIBRARY

NEW BOOKS ON SHELVES

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4)

The Christopher St. John's Edition of the Ellen Terry-Bernard Shaw Letters; Marie Adelaide by Edith O' Shanessy; History of Christian Education by Pierre Marique; Saint Saturnin by Schlumberger; Thirty years in the Golden North by Welzl; and The Burning Bush by Sigrid Unset.

Arthur Tracey, the "Street Singer," is a Penn. grad.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE STRIPED TIGER
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal artist, Paul Bransom . . . inspired by the savage ferocity of the striped tiger, known throughout the world as the terror of the jungle. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted." That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies